Perspective:

The New Testament has a lot to say about prayer. Jesus taught His disciples to pray, and He showed them how to do it. Not only that, but they saw Him prioritize taking time to be alone to talk with God. Jesus was dedicated exclusively to ministry for about three years, and He spent a lot of that time in prayer. This showed the disciples, and us, that prayer is vital. In his classic devotional, My Utmost for His Highest, Oswald Chambers pointed out, "Prayer does not fit us for the greater works; prayer is the greater work."

Jesus said that He came to show us what the Father is like. One of the things He showed us is that God loves relationships. God as a three-in-one Trinity of Being has set the standard for existing in perfect fellowship. He wants to welcome every person He created into fellowship as well. When we put our faith in Jesus, He is with us and in us—His love, His forgiveness, His grace, and His power. That relationship with Him requires communication to flourish. When we pray, we're talking with our God and the Lord of our heart. When we see a need, we know that we can ask Him for help that only He can give.

Think about this. If we keep on doing our part to pray and share our faith with others, someday we could find Christians in every neighborhood and community showing the love of God and praying for others. Prayer is the greater work!

Sincerely,

Kenny and Faye McCoy

The LORD bless you and keep you!

The LORD let his face shine upon you and be gracious to you!

The LORD look upon you kindly and give you peace!
